IN NEWSPHERE

No News Expected from Miles Until Next Saturday.

HE IS PROBABLY ON SHORE.

Brooke and Haines are en Route to Join Him.

Grant's Entire Brigade is Ordered from Chickamauga.

Newport News and Hampton Roads Convenient for Troops.

SAMPSON'S REPORT IS RECEIVED.

Official Story of the Smashing of Cervera to Be Made Public Soon. Handsomely-engrossed Resolutions for Admiral Dewey.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, July 25.—The War Department was busy today hurrying the dispatch of the remainder of Miles' expedition against Porto Rico. Such progress has been made that it is hoped that all of the troops will be on Porto Rico well within a week at the latest. Gen. Miles is not expected to defer his landing until that time, but presumably will pick out a suitable place for encamping his troops, and establish himself ashore awaiting the arrival of the other detachments now on their way.

Officials believe that the first of the news from Miles will come through the press dispatches, as the general has not with him, so far as known, any dispatch boats. It will at least be Saturday before direct cable communication can be established with him, and in the mean time, reliance must be had on the dispatch boats running across to St. Thomas, distant about four hours' run. It was expected in the department that Gen. Brooke and Gen. Haines will sail today from Newport News to join Miles, and that most of Gen. Brooke's command would be embarked Wednesday morning.

The work of embarkation at Hampton Roads is being conducted with much less difficulty and delay than was expected. Col. Hecker, in charge of the transportation division of the War Department, who has just returned from that place, has reported to Secretary Alger that it is well suited to the shipment of the troops. Consequently the Secretary today ordered all of Gen. Grant's brigade, 3000 men, from Chickamauga to Newport News. It is not expected that all the transports required for their accommodation will have arrived there by the time the soldiers get in, but they will be encamped on suitable ground there, and it is believed will be benefited by the change from Chickamauga.

Adjt.-Gen. Corbin, with his faithful private secretary, Mr. Coursey, last night completed the hundredth consecutive day's service at the department, and there is still little diminution in the number of telegrams and letters and official papers pouring in on this office.

The Signal Service has succeeded in reclaiming from the battlefield of Santiago the tubes which supplied the military balloon with pure hydrogen gas, and they, with the balloon itself, have been brought over to Tampa on the steamer Adria. The tubes will be recharged immediately, and the whole apparatus will be dispatched at once to Porto Rico to assist Gen. Miles in his campaign there. The balloon is said to have proved of great value in the Santiago campaign, and from the character of the country in Porto Rico where military operations must be conducted it is believed that it also will be used to advantage there.

It was announced today at the Navy Department that the long expected report from Admiral Sampson upon the destruction of Cervera's fleet, with the accompanying reports of the commodore and captains of his squadron, had reached the department. It is supposed to have been brought by Capt. Sigbee on the St. Paul, which arrived at New York last Friday, and to have been sent by Capt. Sigbee. It is the intention of the Secretary of the Navy to give these reports to the public in their entirety.

Secretary Long today forwarded to Admiral Dewey the joint resolution of Congress, extending the thanks of Congress for the victory achieved at Cavite. The resolutions were beautifully engrossed, and were prefaced by a formal attestation of its authenticity by Secretary of State Day. The whole is inclosed in rich gilt and ornamented Russian leather covers. It is to be remarked that Secretary Long in his letter of transmittal makes reference to a letter from the Secretary of State complimenting Admiral Dewey upon his direction of affairs since the great naval victory, a formal evidence that the department is thoroughly well satisfied with the diplomatic qualities he has exhibited. The letter of Secretary Long is as follows:

"NAVY DEPARTMENT (Washington, D. C.) July 25, 1898.—Sir: The department has received from the Secretary of State an engrossed and certified copy of a joint resolution of Congress, tendering the thanks of Congress to you and the officers and men of the squadron under your command, for transmission to you, and herewith incloses the same.

"Accompanying the copy of the joint resolution, the department received a letter from the Secretary of State, requesting that there be conveyed to you his high appreciation of your character as a naval officer and of the judgment and prudence you have shown in directing affairs since the date of your great achievement in destroying the Spanish fleet. This I take great pleasure in doing, and join most heartily on behalf of the Navy Department as well as personally in the commendation of the Secretary of State. Very respectfully,

[Signed.] "JOHN D. LONG, Secretary."

"Rear-Admiral George Dewey, United States Navy, Commander-in-Chief Asiatic Station."

GEN. BROOKE SAILS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, July 25.—Maj.-Gen. Brooke, commanding the First Army Corps, will sail today from Newport News to join Gen. Miles at Porto Rico. The general will command the troops of St. Louis, and as he will proceed immediately without waiting for the whole of his command, he should arrive off Porto Rico some time Friday or Saturday. The St. Louis will be accompanied on the coast by the St. Paul, on which will be the headquarters of Gen. Haines. The remainder of the troops in Chickamauga will be embarked at Hampton Roads as rapidly as possible, and it is expected that the last of them will be aboard ship by Wednesday.

The reported sinking of the German steamer off San Juan de Porto Rico by a launch from an American vessel is taken at the War Department to confirm its belief that Gen. Miles has arrived there. However, some vessels of the auxiliary fleet have been blockading San Juan, and the launch may have been from one of these vessels instead of from Miles' fleet. The department has no doubt that Miles is off Porto Rico, and if all of the details of the expedition are moving with precision there is every reason to believe that the troops will all be ashore before the end of the week.

Col. Hecker, who is directly in charge of the transportation arrangements here, returned to Washington from Fort Monroe, entirely satisfied with the progress being made there in the embarkation of Gen. Brooke's command.

MRS. PORTER'S LETTER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, July 25.—From San Juan, under date of July 8, Mrs. John Addison Porter, wife of the Secretary to the President, has written a personal letter describing conditions there. It was written a week after the battles of El Caney and San Juan. The Red Cross was then adding in the care of the wounded, and feeding the thousands of fugitives from Santiago. The Spanish wounded captives expressed great gratitude that they were given the same attention that Americans received. One surgeon who dressed the wounds of 200 Americans and Spanish soldiers, told Mrs. Porter that nearly all the Spaniards were hit two or three times, while as a rule the Americans received a single wound, indicating a difference of marksmanship.

The letter speaks of the high estimate the soldiers have of Gen. Wood and Lieut.-Col. Roosevelt, who,

BIG CLEAN-UPS REPORTED BY STEAMER CHARLES NELSON.

Former Los Angeles Domestic Drowned—Inflammatory Case—Stockton—Gila Head Irrigation Case—Murder Trial.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE (Wash.), July 25.—The steamer Charles Nelson arrived here today from St. Michaels with 173 passengers from Dawson and gold dust estimated all the way from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. Pursuant to a Tucker said, "I believe that $1,500,000 is a fair estimate. Of that amount I can vouch for $600,000, which was turned over to me and placed in the steamer's safe."

One man, Tucker said, had $175,000, and another $125,000. He would not disclose their names. Prof. T. S. Lippy, his father and two brothers, carried on the steamer nine canvas sacks, which weighed about one hundred pounds each. This was the clean-up from Lippy's claim, No. 16 Eldorado.

Charles Randall, an old-timer, had $84,000. Other individual amounts ran from $100 to $10,000, the average being $500. At 5 o'clock the steamer was crowded with passengers. Sixty-seven passengers had deposited in the assay office about $300,000. Four thousand ounces was the largest individual amount. This did not include the Lippy and Randall gold.

About one-third of the passengers brought no gold. Some of them had gone in this spring. Not liking the prospects, they sold their outfits and returned. Some are arriving at St. Michaels every day from the Yukon, and the next day from there, there will be crowded to their full capacity. Owing to the high rates on river steamers, many are floating down on small boats. When the Nelson left, there were there were twenty-six vessels there. Nine river steamers, loaded to the guards, had started up the river. Some were driven back by the water, and doubts were expressed of the ability of the heavier draughts ever going to Dawson. There is a large amount of merchandise at St. Michaels, and it is insured a supply of food next winter if it can be gotten up before ice closes navigation.

Moran's fleet of ten river steamers was passed by the Nelson just after it had entered Bering Sea, about six hundred miles from St. Michaels. The arrival of the Nelson was anxiously awaited at St. Michaels, as it would enable many of the steamers to send their passengers up the river. The passengers were getting very uneasy and discontented. Several steamers were unable to sail, owing to the fact that their passengers would not disembark until river transportation was provided for them. Among the steamers thus delayed were the Progress, South Portland and Brimham.

The noted Cuban filibuster, Laura, with three wives, was passed by the Nelson in Bering Sea. The Conemaugh was discharging her steel river steamers, and they were being run together. The Navarra had arrived with her tow, river steamer Minneapolis, in good condition.

AN OFFICIAL WARNING. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

STOCKTON, July 25.—The Treasury Department has issued a warning to prospectors bound for Alaska, to beware of certain transportation companies, which are operating at various points throughout the country.

A number of these companies have advertised that they outfit prospectors and convey them with their freight to points in Alaska for a certain amount, but fail to abide by the terms of the contract, leaving many of the prospectors stranded in the Alaskan wilderness without food or money.

MIDDLE RIVER TRAGEDY. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

STOCKTON, July 25.—The body of the late drowned in Middle River last Friday has not been recovered. A Deputy Coroner left today to search for the remains, but as there is considerable current at the place it is doubtful whether they can be found until the body rises.

The drowned woman was Miss Mary Allen, who was aged 25 years. She was on her way to this city in the sloop Huntress, owned by Antoine Hansen, a Vallejo saloon keeper. The young woman asked to be brought to this city, saying she had friends here who she wished to visit on the way up she told Hansen that her object was to get away from home as she could not bear the treatment her mother subjected her to. Hansen and Miss Allen were the only ones on the sloop.

They were standing just in front of the wheel when the boat was swung around by a gust of wind. It struck Hansen and Miss Allen on the head, knocked the sloop backward to the deck, where he lay unconscious. Hansen recovered he called for Miss Allen, getting no reply, he started to rise, but fell. He was unable to do more than crawl around the deck in a semi-dazed condition.

A flag was flying on the mast of the sloop, and to attract attention Hansen lowered it to half-mast. The next morning two young men boarded the boat to ascertain what was the matter and they sailed the sloop into Stockton. The drowned woman had not been at home very long. She was told Hansen that she had been working as a domestic in Los Angeles and other cities.

SAILING ON THE STYX. A Quarrelsome Drunk Has the Face Shot Off Him.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

RENO (Nev.), July 25.—Yesterday at 5 o'clock Will Chapman, a "branco buster" had a fist fight with a man named Charles Sailing, in a barroom of Brubeck's Hotel. Amadeo, it was a drunken row, and after hammering each other for a time, Sailing cried quits and said he had enough. The two men washed up and went in to dinner, when they got at it again. Sailing again told Chapman that he had enough, and immediately left the hotel and went to another saloon, where he procured a pistol and came back.

Chapman was in the washroom when Sailing came back. Frank Miller, appeared on the scene, armed with a double-barreled shotgun, and said that he would not allow a fight to take place. He put the gun to his shoulder and shot Sailing with both barrels, one charge entering the latter's right breast and the other striking the lower part of his face, off-jointing him instantly. Miller was arrested by Sheriff Church of Lassen county and taken to Susanville this morning.

SETTLED FOR GOOD.

Mandate from the Supreme Court in the Gila Bend Case.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.), July 25.—A mandate from the Supreme Court in the Gila Bend case.

The mandate affirms the decision of the Territorial Supreme Court in affirming the judgment of the District Court in favor of the United States.

The project was to reduce 150,000 acres, and $1,000,000 was expended in construction by the Arizona Construction company, composed of John K. Gentry, John H. Francis, and other Peoria capitalists.

Litigation ensued, and three years ago the project was thrown in the hands of a receiver. All the land under the system had been entered, but the people were discouraged and the project was abandoned. A removal in that section is expected.

THE DEMOCRATIC OUTLOOK.

Names of Some of Those Who Hope to Get Places.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—The Democratic Committee which is to fix the date of the State convention of that party will meet this city tomorrow.

It is understood that the convention will be held August 16 or 17. The Examiner says that Congressman Maguire will probably be nominated for Governor without opposition, and D. M. Baker of Santa Ana may be the nominee for Lieutenant-Governor.

Senator Sewell of Mendocino is the leading candidate for Attorney-General, and Railroad Commissioner La Rue may be re-nominated. Gov. Budd is expected to be chairman of the convention.

Wallace may be chosen for the Supreme bench. W. M. Hinton is prominent for Railroad Commissioner and J. H. Grady for Attorney-General.

The Examiner adds: "The Populist Congressmen, Castle and Barlow, will in all likelihood be endorsed by the Democrats in Berkeley and San Francisco districts. William Craig, former City and County Attorney, is said to have the best chance for nomination in the Fifth against Eugene Louie and James H. Barr in the Fourth. In the event of Senator Sewell declining to accept the Attorney-Generalship, C. T. Andrews, District Attorney of Santa Clara, is the leading candidate.

Vries has no opposition in the Second District."

STOCKTON'S FOUR FIRES.

At Least Two of Them are Supposed to Be Incendiary.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

STOCKTON, July 25.—Stockton was visited by four fires last night, at least two of which are believed to be incendiary. An anteroom in Bersier Hall, in which the city clerk, the Verein Eintracht, the Frau Verein, Court Schiller, Foresters of America, and Stockton Circle, Companions of the E. of A., held their meetings, was gutted.

The alarm was sounded about midnight, and while the firemen were at work the Terminal City Wheelmen Clubrooms in the Odd Fellows' building was discovered to be on fire. In the former fire the residents of the building named were destroyed, and in the other fire the furniture and a large silver trophy cup known as the "Lafayette Cup" were destroyed. Both fires were evidently incendiary. This is the second time the latter building has been set on fire within a year. The other two fires were outside the city limits in the additions.

VINES' VIEWS.

Tells of the Extent of the Klondike Branch Claims.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—C. H. Vines, who represents a New York syndicate, has returned from the Klondike, which he regards as the richest mining region in the world. He said in an interview:

"What greatly impressed me is the wealth and extent of the bench claims. As an instance, I saw a claim on the ninth tier in French Gulch, which appeared to be a very rich one. It was being worked by a syndicate of men, which was turning out $1000 per day. What extent of territory this class covers, no man knows, and the discovery of the Klondike will probably occupy years. As to quartz ledges, after careful investigation I am strongly inclined to the belief that they no longer exist in that region. As to the future possibilities, I would say that they are apparently immense."

THOMAS LARKIN DEAD.

First White Child of American Parents Born in California.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

Nothing of a sensational nature developed—at today's session further than the fact of Lochner's great depravity, as related by himself and several witnesses.

GREEN FRUIT SHIPMENTS.

California's Quota Will Be About Four Thousand Carloads.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Notwithstanding the fact that there is a shortage in the deciduous fruit crop this year, the shipments of green fruit so far this season exceed those for the same period of last year by 175 carloads.

Freight Traffic Manager William Sproule of the Southern Pacific Company, who made a thorough study of the supply of green fruits in all parts of the State, estimates that about 4000 carloads will be shipped East this year, against 5300 in 1897. The shortage is chiefly in pears, peaches and apricots. There will be an increase, however, in the shipments of prunes and raisins.

Raisin Mass-meeting.

FRESNO, July 25.—The raisin mass-meeting held today, which was to determine the future of the proposition, really determined nothing. It was found that while the association had control of 75 per cent. of the crop, the owners of 7000 acres still demanded cash in the sweet box. Unless they withdrew this demand the association cannot succeed. It was decided to give those growers three more months to come to terms. President Kearney made a violent speech, in which he abused those who had failed to pool their crops, and made a very bad impression.

JOHN SHERMAN TALKS.

SAYS WE CAN'T CONSISTENTLY LAY ANY CLAIM TO CUBA.

Believes There is No Excuse for Taking the Philippines, but Thinks We Must Fight to Retain Them in Favor of More Army and Navy and a Canal.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—A special to the World from Washington says that former Secretary of State John Sherman, in an interview said, after expressing regret for the reported differences between Gen. Shafter and Garcia in Cuba:

"Congress passed a resolution to expel Spain from Cuba. In that resolution, it was clearly stipulated that we would leave the island to the control of the people thereof, after a stable and firm government had been established. Therefore, we cannot, with any show of consistency, lay claim to the island after it has been taken from Spain. It is yet to be determined whether or not the Cubans are capable of self-government. If they are, well and good, we should turn the island over to them, but if the Cubans become dissatisfied with their form of government after we set it up, and rebel against it, we would be bound to call upon to step in and take the island. This, to my mind, is the only contingency which could arise, wherein the United States would be justified in taking Cuba."

At this time it is not possible to form an approximate estimate of the amount of indemnity we should demand from Spain. Much depends upon future events. It seems to me, however, that the United States should not see the light of when the United States begins to figure on indemnity. I have always believed that the Maine was torpedoed by the Spanish government, but the Maine went into a friendly harbor over the head of the American people. This is a fact which the American people cannot lose sight of.

The Spanish territory which we have acquired to us because of the war, there is only one island which I would be in favor of retaining, and that is Porto Rico. There are reasons why Porto Rico would be a desirable acquisition. But, as I believe, there is no excuse for taking the Philippines or Cuba, and I believe that the United States should be content with the acquisition of Porto Rico. The act was done without the knowledge of the Spanish government, but the Maine went into a friendly harbor over the head of the American people. This is a fact which the American people cannot lose sight of.

McPartland and Everhardt Fight a Twenty-five-round Draw.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—"Kid" McPartland of New York and Jack Everhardt of New Orleans fought twenty-five rounds tonight at the Greater New York Athletic Club, Coney Island, and at the end of the twenty-fifth round both men were able to go several more rounds. Referee Sam Austin ended the bout by declaring the bout a draw.

In the opening round, Everhardt landed a right swing on the back of the "Kid's" neck, and at the close McPartland forced Everhardt to his corner. The succeeding rounds were simply exhibitions of scientific sparring.

The following rounds up to the nineteenth were fast, and the fighting pretty even with the advantage, if any, in favor of McPartland. In the twentieth round Everhardt swung his right hand over McPartland's head, dazing the "Kid." Everhardt rushed, and the round ended in a clinch as the ropes. McPartland came up strong in the twentieth, however, and cut out a faster pace, which he continued in the following rounds.

Everhardt was tired when he went to his corner.

In the twenty-third round Everhardt took a turn at rushing and took desperate chances to land a swinging blow. He was cleverly blocked, and failed to get one past McPartland's guard.

Accused of Taking With Him Another Man's Wife.

It was reported yesterday at Police headquarters and the District Attorney's office that Frank McLellan, formerly street sweeping inspector, and later a special police officer, was missing from his home, and that he was in New Orleans accompanied, his wife charges, by a married woman of this city. Mrs. McLellan called at both places yesterday and wanted the assistance of the authorities to bring him back. She said he had deserted her, and is leaving herself and children destitute. The telegram she received from him yesterday morning was from New Orleans, and said he had arrived there safely, and would mail a letter later. He did not say whether he would return or not.

McLellan came to this city some months ago from the northern part of the State. He got in his work on "politics" as a ward-striker in Boyle Heights, and was appointed Street-Sweeping Inspector by Mayor Snyder. Although he held for several months, the Councilman Blanchard, who put up a strong fight for him, he was let out of the position in a few months.

He was then given odd jobs about the city, and through influence was given the appointment of special police officer. He had been in the position for a few months when he was let out of the position.

Mrs. McLellan was told the authorities could not bring her husband back.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

THE MACY-STREET SCHOOL A SOURCE OF TROUBLE.

It Extends on a Public Alley, Hence Trouble is Brewing for the Board—Cheaper to Buy Two Lots Than to Move the Building.

At the meeting of the Board of Education last night the School Telephone Company, and permission to lay its cables through the grounds of the Spring-street school building by attaching the cables to the walls of the building. As it would be a permanent fixture, the company promised to do the work in such a manner as to be wholly unobtrusive in respect to the building, and that no annoyance or danger of any kind would be created thereby.

The company has already laid its cables underground in the alley as far south as the schoolhouse, and as it was desired to obtain the necessary permission to cross the school grounds as soon as possible, Chairman Davis will this morning sign the necessary permission, in case he deems it advisable to do so.

Allyn extended an invitation to the board to be present at an address on "Oral Education" this evening at the State School Hall, which was accepted with thanks.

In the matter of a proper foundation under the High School walls, Building Superintendent Hogan said that he had not yet prepared specifications for the work, but thought it would require about 12,000 brick. Mr. Bragg favored the school board in its action, and under the supervision of the Building Superintendent, rather than by contract, and it was so agreed, the work not to exceed in cost $200.

The Finance Committee reported a balance of $25,495.52 in the several school funds on July 1. On that date the school funds had been overdrawn $16,643.04, which, however, has since been paid. The committee also reported that the amount of $193.53, which were ordered paid.

It was also ordered that all minor repair work necessary to be done in the various schools be referred to the committee. Mr. Cuneo's supervision of the opening of the next term.

Building Superintendent Hogan submitted a report on the condition of the various schools, such as painting, plastering, carpenter work, etc., and the Building Committee was instructed to place $1000 insurance on the material, apparatus, etc., belonging to the High School, which is now in the hands of the committee.

It was decided, as an experiment, to make the color of the blackboard in the new school room of the Sixth-street school green instead of black, as it was thought that color would be easier on the eyes.

Chairman Davis stated that he had been served with papers in an action brought against the board by William Mead to compel the removal of the public building school, which is now in the hands of the committee.

Mr. Simonton says that about three years ago the City Council ordered the removal of the building, which is now in the hands of the committee.

Chairman Davis stated that he had been served with papers in an action brought against the board by William Mead to compel the removal of the public building school, which is now in the hands of the committee.

Mr. Simonton says that about three years ago the City Council ordered the removal of the building, which is now in the hands of the committee.

!! Health is a luxury that only the rich can afford, and that no one can enjoy. Every woman is not so situated that she can be an interesting invalid, or rather, an uninteresting one, for there never was an interesting one.

The woman who suffers from weakness and lack of vitality, whose internal organs are certain to become an invalid. No woman can suffer in this way and be a healthy, happy, amiable wife and a competent mother. She will lose the strength, rack the nerves, paint lines of suffering upon the face, destroy the temper, make the once bright eyes dull and the once sweet voice hoarse. She will transform a vivacious woman into a weak, sickly invalid.

There is one sure, speedy, permanent cure for all disorders of the distinctly feminine nature is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs of the female system, making strong, healthy, vigorous and elastic. It cures the internal ulceration and inflammation that give rise to a debilitating drain on the system, and it restores the system to its normal, healthy condition. It is the medicine for overworked, "run-down" women.

BLANCHARD'S DENIAL.
Swears His Colleague's Statement Was Wrong.

A member of the City Council made the assertion on Saturday that Councilman Blanchard explained his vote for Arbitrator Kays by saying, "I know which side my bread is buttered on." Yesterday, when asked if he had been correctly quoted, the member repeated the statement, and he told the same story to others besides the reporters. But Councilman Blanchard declares there is a misunderstanding or misrepresentation in the matter, and to emphasize his denial of the statement made by his colleague, he makes the following affidavit:

"State of California, County of Los Angeles.
"E. L. Blanchard, being first duly sworn, on oath swears: That at the time of holding a caucus by the City Council on Saturday, July 23, 1898, for the purpose of selecting an arbitrator in the matter of fixing the value of the improvements to the water plant, he did not say to a member of the City Council, or to any other person, 'I know which side my bread is buttered on,' and that he did not at any other time or place, or in any other way, ever, use such expression or any similar expression in reference to the selection of such arbitrator, or in reference to the water question, or the purchase of the same by the city; that he never at any time or place, or to any person, used such expression, or any similar expression in regard to any matter touching the water question, or the purchase of an arbitrator, or any other matter connected therewith.

FARMERS' INSTITUTES.
Arrival of Prof. Wickson, the Agricultural Scientist.

Prof. E. H. Wickson of the College of Agriculture of the University of California arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to spend two weeks in lecturing at farmers' institutes in San Diego and Los Angeles counties. Prof. Wickson and Prof. Cooke, director of farmers' institutes of the University of California for the counties south of the Tehachapi, will conduct institutes at Fallbrook today, at Ramona on Wednesday and Thursday at Lemon Grove on Friday and Saturday at Tustin on Monday and Tuesday of next week, at Fullerton on Wednesday and Thursday, and at Rivera Friday.

Prof. Wickson's address will be chiefly on pruning and on the principles of scientific stock-breeding. He is the author of "California Fruits," "California Vegetables," the standard books on those two subjects, and he is preparing a companion volume on "California Flowers" (cultivated), on which he is the leading authority. His work for the university is largely in connection with the farmers' institutes.

Fire Destroys a Fine Residence.
Between 2 and 3 o'clock Monday morning fire was discovered in the residence of E. T. Earl of the Earl Fruit Company, at the corner of Wilshire Boulevard and California street. The house was not entirely completed, but was one of the finest in the city, and would have been occupied in a few weeks. The loss is estimated at $150,000, fully covered by insurance.

Spontaneous combustion is supposed to have caused the fire, as painters and decorators have been working for some days in the interior of the house, and it is supposed they left oil rags around. The inflammable character of the material caused it to gain a headway before the engines arrived that it was impossible to check the flames.

FEDERAL OWNERSHIP

A PLEA FOR GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF WATER SUPPLIES.

George H. Maxwell Addresses a Public Meeting on the Irrigation Propaganda.

RECLAIMING ARID LAND.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE FEDERAL EXPERT ENGINEERS.

Plans for Employing the Nation's Idle Labor and Wreasting from the Desert Farms for the Workers.

George H. Maxwell of San Francisco lectured before a special meeting at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday on the proposed construction of Federal storage reservoirs to supply water to the arid lands of the West. He discussed the present status of the irrigation problem, and argued convincingly for a strong popular movement throughout the arid region to secure the adoption of a national policy of the construction of great Federal irrigation works, as has been recommended by government experts.

The object of the meeting was to arouse interest in the work of the Irrigation Propaganda, the organization which seeks to crystallize public sentiment for effective work. The lecture was listened to with close attention by the audience present, among whom were a number of men prominent in local agricultural interests. Gen. Charles Forman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided and introduced the speaker.

In his address Mr. Maxwell first outlined the propositions which he proposed to discuss, which were:

First—The construction of Federal storage reservoirs by the national government as a part of the established policy of internal improvements as recommended in the report of Capt. (now Col.) Hiram M. Chittenden on "Surveys for Reservoirs in Colorado and Wyoming."

Second—State systems of irrigation works for the distribution of the water supply, thus created, where such distribution was beyond the scope of the cooperation of land owners, and also as outlined in the constitution of the Irrigation Propaganda.

Third—Federal irrigation works to reclaim the arid public domain, to give employment to unemployed labor and enable unemployed wage-earners to get homes on the land, and gradually transform the deserts of Arid America into prosperous rural homes.

In support of his advocacy of Federal storage reservoirs Mr. Maxwell urged the well-recognized fact that throughout the whole length of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valley and in Southern California there are vast areas of fertile lands which were worthless without water, and for the irrigation of which water can never be provided except by building great storage reservoirs.

"These enterprises," he said, "are entirely beyond the scope of private enterprise or even of the State. No one can cope with the problem except the Federal government. That is the report of Col. Chittenden. The government has cast a beacon light in the hills to guide the people of the West to the true policy under which these great works can be constructed."

"The arguments advanced by Col. Chittenden in his report, which have been approved by the Secretary of War, are unanswerable, and one needs only to read this report to be convinced that it is the only way out of the difficulty. It is not the inauguration of any new policy, but only a just enlargement of the long-established policy of internal improvements which would give to the arid regions, to be disbursed in their midst, their fair share of the vast sum which is regularly appropriated for building internal improvements."

"There is no difference in principle between the government building levees along the Mississippi, to protect the adjacent territory from destruction by flood and building reservoirs to restrain the flood waters for use in irrigation to protect the territory in the arid States from destruction by drought. In either case it is to preserve the resources of the nation from destruction."

"The importance of the proposition to all California and all Arid America is beyond calculation or imagination. It is the only way water can be provided for the irrigation of millions of acres of land, sufficiently low to enable the tiller of the soil to use the water and bear the burden of its cost and prosper, and unless the Federal government will adopt this policy millions of fertile acres must remain a desert for centuries, or forever."

"The time is ripe to inaugurate the policy by working to get an appropriation through the next Congress to build the reservoirs already surveyed in Colorado and Wyoming, and also to survey sites for new reservoirs in other States, among others, California, and then to go on with their construction. There are strong reasons for the belief that the whole project is perfectly feasible and can be accomplished, if the people of California and the whole West will unite and actively agitate the question and work for it."

"The government would have strong support from other western states, but ought to lead the movement, because she has most to gain from it."

"The creation of these entirely new water supplies by the federal government would be in the nature of a perpetual grant of the water by the national government to be controlled and distributed under State laws for the benefit of and to promote the prosperity of the people of the State. The State would have to administer it as a trust and where the distribution of the water involved the construction of works which were beyond the scope of the cooperation of land owners, the State would have to build the distributing systems or forego the bounty of the government. The government would never build the reservoirs to benefit promoters and speculators. But there could be no doubt that when the time came a safe system of laws could be framed by conservative men which would guarantee the State against any risk or loss, and enable the land owners to get these incalculable benefits under a system which would enable them to voluntarily assume the burden of the land, eventually bearing the cost of the construction of the distributing systems in proportion to benefits and why without any initiative coercion."

"One proposition especially deserves to be pondered, which is that our present system of water is a patchwork and an imbecile system of allowing water for irrigation to be the subject of private ownership without any reference to the sensible system of irrigated land. The only sensible system is that of Wyoming and Nebraska, where the right to the use of water for the irrigation of land belongs not to any individual, but to the land reclaimed. Such a man as Elwood Mead, the State Engineer of Wyoming, who planned the irrigation laws of Wyoming, which are the model for all States to copy after, could frame laws which would enable us to work out the problem in California of a State system, but it can only be done by recognizing the fact that water must cease to be a speculative commodity, and go to the land it is designed to irrigate as a perpetual appurtenance forever.

The Royal is the highest grade baking powder known. Actual tests show it goes one-third further than any other brand.

"However much we may criticize our present laws we must never forget that vested rights have grown up under them and whatever those rights are they must be recognized and upheld. We cannot upbuild by tearing down. Whatever is must be left as it is, so far as legal rights are concerned, but wherever new water supplies are created by storage a new and sensible system can be adopted to control them in the interest of the producer from the soil, to whose prosperity we must look for the prosperity of the whole people."

The policy of the construction of Federal irrigation works to reclaim the lands of the government, has often been agitated, but the time is now ripe for it. With 2,000 unemployed wage-earners out of work and 100,000,000 acres of land belonging to the people and only needing their labor to be reclaimed by the construction of irrigation works, so they could get homes on the land and become independent forever, it is nothing short of proof of man's inhumanity to man that with millions of money available, with millions of acres of land awaiting reclamation, and with millions of worthy men looking for work, we permit the lands are allowed to remain idle and our own people allowed to suffer and starve while we spend $200,000,000 to relieve the Indians. The trouble is that it required distance to lend enchantment and romance to suffering, but we ought not longer to neglect the great national duty of providing for our unemployed wage-earners in the East a chance to get cheap homes on the land in the West, and an opportunity to labor in the construction of the irrigation works for their reclamation. None of the objections to building public improvements to give employment to labor, could be urged against this policy because the building of the public works practically creates new territory where the men who do the work could then turn around and build permanent homes on the land their labor had reclaimed."

Mr. Maxwell drew a strong picture of the great national development which could follow by the Federal government of this policy of building storage reservoirs and reclaiming its own arid lands, and said that the only reason for the adoption of this policy to realize Speaker Reed's prophecy, when he said: "Every wise man agrees that beyond the Mississippi lies the great wealth of the days to come."

But if this generation wishes to realize it, he declared, they must work out the adoption of this broad policy of development. In no other way can it ever be accomplished.
